

JD Number: 366

Title

android developer

Description

You will be working with the mobile team to develop innovative mobile applications used by the top professionals in this unique domain, including phone and tablet applications to review video, statistics, and other details. This application set to be developed and enhanced will provide the clients with the ability to interact with dynamic audio- video content related to their unique business domain on Web, Mobile and Tablet platforms. To find out what this unique domain is call or email us!)Application elements will include UI to provide:Video Asset FunctionalityLive Real Time FunctionalityUnique interactive tools relevant to this domain!Position DescriptionPrimary

Responsibilities:Collaborate with product marketing and customers to define/clarify product requirements then proceed with the development of engineering prototypes, functional specifications, designs and implementations.Participate as an active member with Product Management and Engineering in the planning process to establish and define sprint/release objectives and content.Participate in a variety of engineering assignments throughout the product development lifecycle including tasks such as design & functional specs, coding in your areas of responsibility, unit testing, performance analysis and development plans/schedules.Proactively raise issues/risks relative to product completeness, quality and performance readiness and work to resolve those issues.Ensure that any customer satisfaction issues are investigated and addressed in a timely manner in addition to ensuring that solutions are included in future releases.Technology

AwarenessDevelop and maintain technical expertise with: Company Solutions systems and related technologies such as Android SDK, Java, Eclipse, Web Services (C#)Engage with members of the project team to ensure thatDevelopment requirements, deliverables and dates are clear, credible, communicated and understood by all team members.Respective implementation plans are in place and committed to.Execution is proceeding according to the overall plan and project schedule.Quality issues are considered and addressed throughout the development process. Education, Experience and Skills:Education & Experience:BS degree in a computer science or a related area or equivalent, relevant experience o Minimum of 3 years of the full mobile development experiencePrior experience on a development team that has successfully developed and delivered an Android based product to market.Technical Skills and Knowledge:Requires a strong background in Java, Android SDK, HTML5, Web Technologies, Web Services, networking and database integration including:3 Years of Android Application Development Experience in Android Studio, Gradle, and the Google Play Store3 Years commercial Java experienceExcellent understanding of Java and programming concepts such as multithreading, MVP with DI, UI and unit testing, Reactive programming, layered architectureC# Web Service skills a plusExcellent diagnostic and troubleshooting skills in a software a networked environmentAdditional Skills and Knowledge:Understanding of SOA and Distributed Applications Architecture o Streaming media technologiesAdditional Attributes:An energetic team player with good interpersonal and time management skills.Since customer interaction is involved, this person must be a team player with good communication and interpersonal skills.Excellent follow-through and attention to detail. o Flexibility to work in a dynamic environment.

Skills

Java, Web Services / SOA, Android, Android SDK,